

Two Days Workshop on Emerging Issues of Business and Human Rights in Asia Pacific

16th – 17th September 2019 @ Kathmandu, Nepal

ABOUT - HRBA2J-ASIA

The Asian Consortium on Human Rights-based Access to Justice (HRBA2J-Asia), established in October 2010, is a regional network for dynamic exchange of knowledge and practices on human rights-based access to justice among relevant civil society, academic and governmental institutions in Asia.

In partnership with United Nations-related agencies (particularly the UNDP-Asia Pacific and UN Democracy Fund) and other institutions, HRBA2J-Asia developed a resource material in 2011 entitled A Manual on Human Rights-based Approach to Realizing Equal Access to Justice, with translated versions in six languages in Southeast, Northeast and South Asia (Thai, Mandarin, Korean, Japanese, Urdu and Nepali) by 2013.

HRBA2J-Asia has member-organizations in three sub regions in Asia consisting of non-governmental organizations, national human rights institutions, university-based centers and government offices.

WHAT TO EXPECT!!

- ✚ We shall try to analyze the link between the UN Guiding Principles, the different business-related issues in Asia
- ✚ Training of trainers on business and human rights issues using the training manual produced by the Northeast Asia group of HRBA2J-Asia

We would look to develop training programs on the application of the UN Guiding Principles.
